About the College

St. Philomena's College was established on October 9, 1946 with the benediction of His Excellency Rt. Rev. Dr. Rene Feuga, the first Bishop of Mysore and His Highness Sri Jayachamarajendra Wodeyar, the Maharaja of Mysore. It was a feather on the cap for St. Philomena's College in becoming the first Private Degree Science College in Mysore region. Now, 75 years later, traditional programmes co-exist with contemporary courses, proliferating the student strength and infrastructure. The college has Post-Graduate Studies and Research Centre offering thirteen programmes with erudite teachers of outstanding caliber, gearing itself to become a University.

About ICSSR

Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR) was established in the year of 1969 by the Government of India to promote research in social sciences in the country. ICSSR provide grants for projects, fellowships, international collaboration, organizing seminar / conference, capacity building, survey, publications etc. to promote research in social sciences in India. Documentation center of ICSSR - National Social Science Documentation Centre (NASSDOC) - provides library and information support services to researchers in social sciences.

About the MSW Department

St. Philomena's College is the first one at University of Mysore level to introduce Social Work (1993) as one of the optional papers at undergraduate level. Later in 1999 the college elevated the course as a full-fledged Social Work degree course (BSW). MSW Department was established in the year 2008, and in 2019 it was elevated as Research Center from University of Mysore. As a Research center the Department is growing vertically and already 6 Students are Pursuing Ph.D Programme under the guidance of Dr. Noor Mubasheer C.A. The Department regularly organizes Seminar, Conferences and workshops on topics of current relevance.

About the Conference

The global population is aging at an unprecedented rate, leading to significant challenges and opportunities in both healthcare and social security systems. As people live longer, there is an increasing need to ensure that they can do so with dignity, security, and adequate access to healthcare. Many countries are grappling with the sustainability of their social security systems, the rising costs of healthcare, and the need for integrated policies that address the holistic needs of the elderly. This conference aims to bring together policymakers, researchers, healthcare professionals, and other stakeholders to discuss innovative solutions, share best practices, and develop strategies to ensure that the needs of the elderly are met effectively.

Call for Papers

Prospective authors are encouraged to contribute and help to shape the conference through submission of their research papers. The contributors can include any other topic falling under the broad gamut of the main theme of the conference. Also, high quality research contributions describing original and unpublished results of conceptual, constructive, empirical, experimental or theoretical work in the areas are cordially invited for presentation at the conference. Selected research papers will be considered for publication as Book chapters with ISBN.
